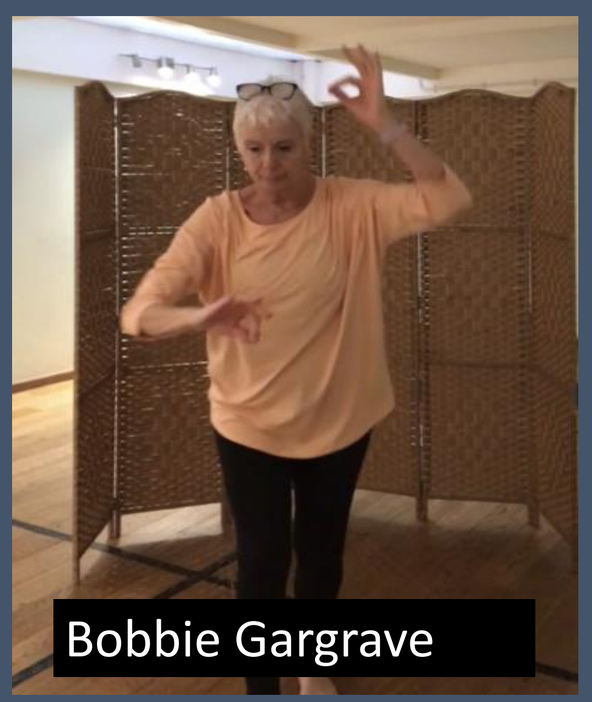
Creative Dance Webinars for Primary School Practitioners

Why Dance, why now?

Dance is a vitally important part of a recovery curriculum. It can provide children with a rich, inclusive and needs driven learning experience. Dance will enable them to engage and reconnect with each other (social relationships), support them becoming successful and effective learners (thinking and creative skills, independence and ownership) and importantly contributing to their physical, emotional health and well-being.

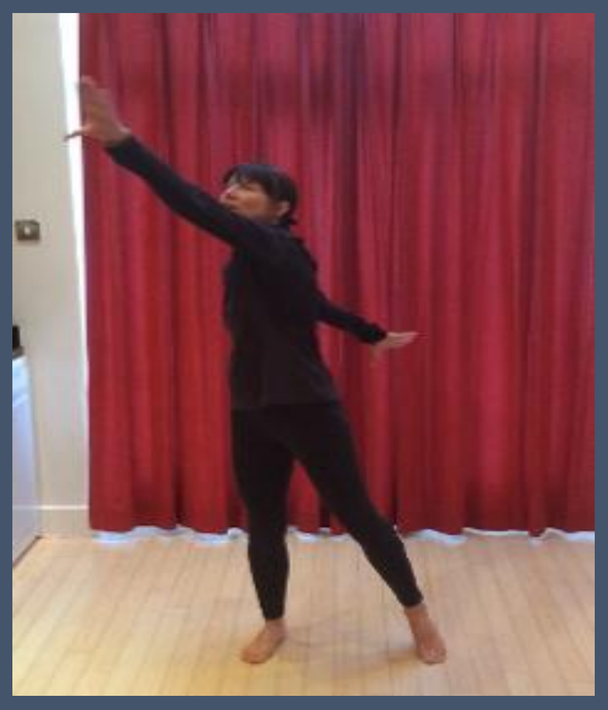


A series of 3 webinars for staff working in primary education settings aiming to:

Enable staff to plan dynamic, exciting and engaging dance lessons and develop confidence and knowledge for future dance development in school.

The 3 webinars (3.45- 5.15pm) include:

1. The Dance planning process via interactive practical ideas
2. Increasing knowledge and understanding of dance skills to enable practitioners to use a wide variety of starting points for Dance which will engage, challenge and motivate our learners across a series of lessons (unit of work)
3. Applying age related expectations and assessment strategies for dance in order to plan /deliver and ensure progression across the Primary Curriculum

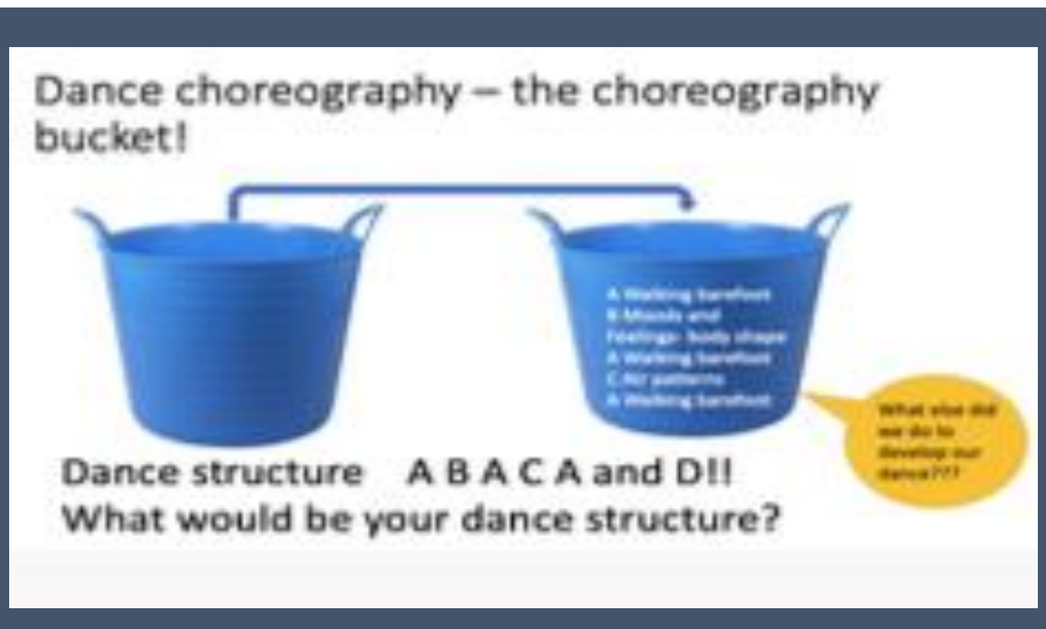


Tutors

Bobbie Gargrave, Kim Henderson and Jan Hickman have extensive experience in delivering high quality primary school dance. They will make the sessions fun, interactive and most of all inspiring.

The webinars will include:

- a range of supportive materials
- raising awareness of the best resources to support primary dance development
- examples of units of work and recommended music



Costs: £750 for all three (no limit on the number of participants)
